

From: Michael Ferguson
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/22/01 7:31pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Since the U.S. government owns so many computers, it should be required to have a computer of another operating system for every computer it owns with the Microsoft operating system. So for each Microsoft type computer the government should be required to use one linux computer, one apple computer, one atari computer, one BeOs computer, one unix computer, etc.

This way the government won't be contributing to and exacerbating Microsoft's dominance in the computer industry.

Michael Ferguson
Pelican, Alaska